ABSTRACT

A study was conducted at William Rainey Harper College (WRHC) to develop a profile of students who withdrew from courses between 1982 and 1986 and to compare this profile with the results of a 1979-82 withdrawal study. For the past 4 years, each degree credit student who has officially withdrawn from a course has been asked to complete a survey form, indicating withdrawal status (i.e., withdrawing from one course only, withdrawing from more than one course, withdrawing from WRHC completely), whether a counselor had been consulted, principal reason for withdrawal, method of registration, and general comments. Between 1982 and 1986, 14% of the 325,000 course enrollments resulted in official withdrawals, representing a 2.5% increase in withdrawals over the 1978-82 period. An analysis of these withdrawals indicated the following: (1) one out of every five course withdrawals resulted in complete withdrawal from WRHC, though almost 75% of the students who withdrew completely planned to return to WRHC one day; (2) 30% of those withdrawing gave reasons completely beyond WRHC's control, and only 7% indicated WRHC as the primary cause for withdrawal; (3) the major reasons cited for withdrawals included personal, family or health problems, job pressures, inconvenient meeting times, or too heavy a course load; (4) withdrawals due to poor grades or falling behind in the course increased from 1.3% in 1982 to 15.2% in 1986; (5) there was a decrease in withdrawals due to course objectives not being related to students' needs and students being inadequately prepared for the course; and (6) summer semester students were less likely to withdraw and withdrew for different reasons when compared to students in the fall and spring semesters. The student withdrawal survey and detailed findings are appended. (EJV)

ABSTRACT

THE PURPOSE OF THIS REPORT IS TO SUMMARIZE DATA OF THE LAST FOUR YEARS CONTAINED IN THE SURVEY GIVEN TO EACH STUDENT WHO WITHDRAWS FROM A COURSE. IT IS ESTIMATED THAT ABOUT THREE OUT OF EVERY FOUR STUDENTS WHO WITHDRAW COMPLETE SUCH A SURVEY FORM. AFTER ANALYSIS AND CROSS COMPARISONS OF DATA BOTH INTERNALLY AND WITH OTHER DATA ON STUDENT CHARACTERISTICS, THE FOLLOWING CONCLUSIONS EMERGED.

OVER THE PAST FOUR YEARS, 14 PERCENT OF THE COURSE ENROLLEES OFFICIALLY WITHDREW FROM THEIR COURSES. ONE-FIFTH OF THE WITHDRAWALS RESULT IN A COMPLETE WITHDRAWAL FROM HARPER. HOWEVER, THREE-QUARTERS OF THE STUDENTS WHO COMPLETELY WITHDRAW PLAN TO RETURN TO HARPER. ALMOST ONE-THIRD OF THOSE WITHDRAWING GIVE REASONS COMPLETELY BEYOND HARPER'S CONTROL AND ONLY ONE OUT OF 14 INDICATE HARPER AS THE PRIMARY CAUSE FOR WITHDRAWAL.

WITHDRAWALS DUE TO POOR GRADES OR FALLING BEHIND IN THE COURSE HAVE INCREASED SIGNIFICANTLY SINCE 1982. THERE HAS BEEN A DECREASE IN WITHDRAWALS DUE TO COURSE OBJECTIVES NOT RELATED TO STUDENT'S NEEDS AND STUDENTS BEING INADEQUATELY PREPARED FOR THE COURSE.

SUMMER SEMESTER STUDENTS ARE LESS LIKELY TO WITHDRAW AND WITHDRAW FOR DIFFERENT REASONS WHEN COMPARED TO STUDENTS IN THE FALL AND SPRING SEMESTERS. THE WITHDRAWAL RATE OF TELEPHONE REGISTRANTS CONTINUES TO BE LESS THAN THE WITHDRAWAL RATE OF STUDENTS REGISTERING IN PERSON. YOUNGER STUDENTS ARE MORE LIKELY TO WITHDRAW THAN OLDER STUDENTS.

1. Student Withdrawal Survey..... 91

PURPOSE

The purpose of this report is to summarize data of the last four years contained in the survey given to each student who withdraws from a course. The objective of the report is to provide general institutional backgound profiling students who withdraw from courses at Harper and to compare this data to the results of the 1979-1982 withdrawal study.

POPULATION SURVEYED

Students are asked to complete a survey form at the time they officially withdraw from a course. During the last four years, surveys have been completed for approximately 50 percent of the course withdrawals. However, one out of every three students drops more than one course, and usually only one withdrawal form is filled out regardless of the number of courses a student drops. Thus, the unduplicated headcount of withdrawing students who completed surveys is much higher than it appears. When compared to the previous study, the number of surveys completed in relation to per course withdrawals increased by nearly 15 percent.

METHODOLOGY

For the last four years, each degree credit student who has officially withdrawn from a course has been asked to complete a survey form (shown in the appendix). This form was designed by the Office of Planning and Research and is distributed by the Registrar's Office. The data has been analyzed to show many comparisons to data within the survey and to certain other data on student characteristics.

DISCUSSION OF RESULTS

During the four year period from summer 1982 through spring 1986, 14 percent of the 325,000 course enrollments resulted in official withdrawals. This is a 2.5 percent increase in course withdrawals when compared to the previous study completed in spring 1982. One out of every five course withdrawals results in a complete withdrawal from Harper. However, almost three-quarters of the students who completely withdraw plan to return to Harper some day. The percent of complete withdrawals from Harper has remained fairly constant since the previous study but the number of students planning to return to Harper has increased.

Of those withdrawing, 30 percent withdraw for reasons completely beyond Harper's control and only seven percent indicate Harper as the primary cause for withdraw. Those who withdrew for reasons beyond Harper's control are more likely to withdraw from Harper completely.

The major reasons cited for withdrawals include personal, family or illness problems, job pressures, inconvenient meeting times, or too heavy a course load. While these reasons continue to be some of the most frequently cited reasons for withdrawals when compared to the previous study, they have been cited in decreasing frequency over the years.

Another major reason cited for withdrawing is poor grades or falling too far behind in the course. The rate of students withdrawing for this reason has increased from 1.3 percent in 1982 to 15.2 percent in 1986.

Reasons that have been cited less frequently by withdrawing students include objectives not related to their needs and being inadequately prepared for the course. This decrease may be attributed to assessment testing, the orientation program and/or counseling.

The percent of withdrawals during the summer semester continues to be less than the percent of withdrawals in the spring and fall semesters (11 percent versus 14.5 percent). Students who withdraw during the summer are more likely to withdraw completely and within the refund period. Summer withdrawing students are less likely ever to have seen a counselor and are more likely to have registered by telephone.

Reasons for withdrawal also differ when comparing the summer semester to the spring and fall semester. Summer enrollees are less likely to withdraw because of poor grades or falling behind, an ineffective instructor, too heavy a course load or dislike for the instructor. This data regarding summer semester withdrawals is similar to the results reported in the 1979-1982 study.

The percent of withdrawals of those who register by telephone is half the percent of withdrawals by students registering in person (8 percent versus 16 percent). This ratio remained fairly constant during this four-year study. Those who registered by telephone are more likely to withdraw during the refund period and to withdraw completely from Harper.

During the last four years, 46 percent of the students withdrawing say they have never consulted a counselor - a slight increase when compared to the previous study. However, when looking at counselor consultation percentages for each year during the two studies, there does not appear to be a discernible trend. Those who withdraw completely from Harper are less likely to consult a counselor in the semester of withdrawal.

Overall, younger students have a higher withdrawal rate when compared to students 25 years of age or older (18.5 percent as compared to 7.5 percent). However, during the summer semesters the withdrawal rate did not differ between age groups. Students 25 years of age or older are more likely to withdraw for reasons completely beyond Harper's control than students under 25 years of age. The reasons for withdrawal most frequently cited by older students are personal, family or illness problems and job pressures or a new job. Older students are less likely to withdraw because of poor grades or falling behind, too heavy a course load, or dislike for the course. Withdrawing students 25 years of age or older are more likely to have registered by telephone, withdraw within the refund period and withdraw completely from Harper.

Males had a slightly higher withdrawal rate than females (15.4 percent versus 12.6 percent). Younger males were more likely to withdraw than older males, while older females were more likely to withdraw than younger females. Females were also more likely to withdraw within the refund period.

CONCLUSION

Over the past four years 14 percent of the course enrollees officially withdrew from their courses. One-fifth of the withdrawals result in a complete withdrawal from Harper. However, three-quarters of the students who completely withdraw plan to return to Harper. Almost one-third of those withdrawing give reasons completely beyond Harper's control and only one out of 14 indicates Harper as the primary cause for withdrawal.

Withdrawals due to poor grades or falling behind in the course increased significantly since 1982. There has been a decrease in withdrawals due to course objectives not related to student's needs and students being inadequately prepared for the course.

Summer semester students are less likely to withdraw and withdraw for different reasons when compared to students in the fall and spring semesters. The withdrawal rate of telephone registrants continues to be less than the withdrawal rate of students registering in person. Younger students are more likely to withdraw than older students.
